

Looking great so far! I like the consistency throughout, and hierarchy/flow is very clear. Images are also chosen well. I didn't get to it on my first draft either, but one area to note is responsiveness. I also wonder if the blue background is just a tad too dark? Makes reading the text a bit difficult. I do like all of the colors and I know I mentioned things looking washed out before, but i wonder if there needs to be a tad more contrast explicitly with body text. I could be wrong though! Might just be my screen. I wonder there would be room for a more designed font for headings? But really overall looks great!